COMPREHENSION

People in the world do different kinds of work. Some go to school to learn the skills for their work, others learn as they watch their masters do the work.

Teachers work in school: they teach children and adult. Doctors take care of the sick in the hospital, nurses help them in their work. Others also work as accountant, who keep records of how money is received and spent or as lawyers who defend people in the law court. Bankers help to keep people's money in the bank. There are many other areas where people can work.

When we all work hard, we are able to make our lives better. When everybody works and nobody is lazy, it helps to make our country grow and good to live in. If a doctor does not attend to his/her patient well and on time, the patient may die with all of his/her talent. This will not be good for our country.
